Final Vietnam Victim Buried

WASHINGTON (AP) — Col. William P. Nolde, the last American killed before the Vietnam cease-fire, will be buried with full military honors today in Arlington National Cemetery.

Nolde, 43, was killed when a Communist artillery shell exploded near An Loc 11 hours before the truce took effect.

One U.S. soldier has been killed since the cease-fire.

Air Force Sgt. John O'Neal Rucker, 21, of Linden, Tex., was killed Jan. 27, when a Viet Cong mortar shell crashed into the barracks where he was sleeping. He was buried in his hometown Sunday.

In all, 45,941 Americans were killed in the Vietnam conflict.

Nolde, a resident of Mount Pleasant, Mich., was advising South Vietnamese troops when he was killed.

His wife, Joyce, said after being informed of his death, "I knew he wasn't coming back."

She said she had a dream. "A rocket came in. I knew it the other night."

"I can't feel bitter because the war has ended," she added. "That's what he wanted."

Nolde was a career Army soldier who never regretted his assignment to Vietnam, friends said, because he thought he could help the Vietnamese people.

He was the senior American adviser in Binh Long province and stationed at An Loc, a once-beautiful town, which had been reduced to rubble by constant North Vietnamese shelling.

Nolde had hoped to help rebuild a Catholic church when the war ended, a friend said, who added that Nolde frequently visited the residents of the Phu Van refugee camp.

After his death, Nolde was promoted a grade to full colonel.

Local Pumpkins Make Good

A little bit of Circleville will be a part of a national advertising campaign, thanks to efforts by the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce.

Chamber manager Jean Ankrum received a call Sunday afternoon from a Cleveland advertising agency needing two pumpkins. The man had called all over the United States trying to locate about 30 different produce items (and managed to get sweetcorn, broccoli and brussels sprouts shipped all the way from California) to be used in a commercial display for Diamond Products, Inc. involving bug and pest control.

The advertising agent had managed

A cooperative telephone operator managed to make the right connections so after a period of investigation by Pickaway Countians, the advertising man came up with two of the fall vegetables, the best of six still held by the Albert Barnhart family of Pickaway.

Further connections were made by telephone, eliminating the Cleveland man's trip here to pick up the pumpkins. Late in the afternoon, the vegetables were placed in the custody of the Lake Shore system here in Circleville. In Columbus, Greyhound bus lines took over, carrying the previous farm products to Cleveland where the agent picked them up at the station around midnight.

The pumpkins were not extremely large, probably eight to ten pounds and about 10 inches in diameter, Mrs. Barnhart reports. She says in checking on the pumpkins, which are stored in the coolest of the upstairs rooms in the Barnhart home, that three were found to be turning soft. They shipped two of the remaining pumpkins, although the youngest child protested that there would be no more for pumpkin pie.

Expect POW Release To Come This Week

SAIGON (AP) — U. S. officials said today that the first releases of American prisoners of war in South Vietnam are expected this week. They also indicated that U. S. ships and aircraft might soon begin clearing the mines the U. S. Navy planted in North Vietnamese waters last year.

Fighting between South Vietnamese troops continued to slack off across the country as teams of military truce observers fanned out to regional headquarters. But U. S. B52 bombers and fighter-bombers continued operations over Laos Sunday at the request of the Laotian government, the U. S. Pacific Military Command in Honolulu announced.

U. S. officials were reported preparing plans to receive one of the first groups of American prisoners in the An Loc area, 60 miles north of Saigon and 10 miles from the Cambodian border. A subcommittee of the four-power joint military commission met for the third successive day in an effort to finalize the first phase of the prisoner release.

The officials gave few details but indicated that the United States and the Viet Cong also had tentatively agreed on at least one other site in the Saigon region and two sites in the Mekong Delta for the POWs to be handed over.

Prisoner of war lists given the United States in Paris listed 99 U. S. servicemen and 27 American civilians held by the Viet Cong in South Vietnam. There has been no indication when the release of the 465 Americans reported held in North Vietnam and Laos might begin.

Bloody Irish Flareup Fatal To 10 Persons

BELFAST (AP) — The death toll in Belfast's bloodiest weekend of guerrilla strife rose to 10 early today when a gas station attendant cut down by gunmen died in a hospital.

The other dead included six Roman Catholics killed by British troops and three Protestants. A total of 20 persons have died since last Monday.

Catholic political leaders demanded a government inquiry into the killing of the six Catholics, claiming they were unarmed bystanders. The army said they were gunmen of the Irish Republican Army.

Informed sources said William Whitelaw, Britain's administrator of Northern Ireland, would ask Prime Minister Edward Heath for more troops to reinforce the 17,000 soldiers in the province. Three thousand had been sent back to Britain in recent months because the strife had scaled down, but the lull ended a week ago as gunmen went on a rampage.

Scattered sniper fire continued Sunday night in the capital of Northern Ireland, but the level of violence was considerably less than the night before. The streets were largely deserted except for army patrols and empty buses.

During the day a group of children found the naked corpse of a 33-year-old Protestant floating in a river. He had been beaten black and blue, stabbed in the chest and throat, branded and shot through the head.

Two other Protestants were killed Saturday night and at least 15 other persons wounded as Protestant and Catholic terrorists roamed the city in one of the bloodiest nights Northern Ireland has seen since the religious conflict exploded 3½ years ago.

Since 1969, 711 persons have died, according to official reports, and a substantial number of additional IRA members are thought to have been killed and buried secretly.

The army reported a pitched battle between one of its patrols and gunmen early Sunday in the Catholic New Lodge quarter. It said the troops used newly issued telescopic night sites and with them killed six of the gunmen during a four-hour battle. These were the six who the Catholics claimed were bystanders.

The surge of violence began a week ago when the Protestant Ulster Defense Association announced it could no longer restrain Protestant extremists, and the Irish Republican Army's Provisional wing vowed "ruthless retaliatory action."

Vote On Vietnam War Bonus Scheduled By Ohio House

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio House of Representatives will consider a bonus for veterans of the Vietnam War Tuesday in what is expected to be the first substantive roll call vote of the 110th General Assembly.

The issue is one of five constitutional amendments that will be considered when the House begins work Tuesday afternoon. However, if a floor fight between Democrats and Republicans develops over the bonus issue, action on one or more of the amendments could be postponed until Wednesday.

The bonus issue would be financed by issuing $300 million in bonds that would be retired by levying six-tenths of a mill on property owners.

Republicans sought in vain in the House Judiciary Committee to amend the measure and have the bonds retired from the state's general fund. They were voted down by the majority Democrats who claimed the money might not be there.

The GOP amendment is expected to be offered again to the full House.

Under the bonus, Ohio servicemen who served from 1961 to 1973 would get $500. Survivors of the 2,996 Ohioans killed in the war would receive $1,000.

The House vote will be on whether to place the issue on the May primary ballot as a constitutional amendment. For approval, which would move the issue to the Senate, 60 of the 99 House votes are needed.

Other constitutional amendments under consideration by the house would allow the governor and the lieutenant governor to run as a team, permit legislators to receive expenses, change general assembly operations and authorize a tax break for farmers.

Not expected to meet much opposition is the tax relief for farmers. The amendment would allow the legislature to implement a plan to assess farm property on the basis of its use rather than the presently required market value.

It was recommended 18-0 by the House Ways and Means Committee.

In the Senate, a bill creating a commission to operate a state lottery, if approved by voters in May, will be under consideration.

The Senate committee also will take testimony on a proposal to let the state retirement systems purchase bonds of foreign countries that have diplomatic relations with the United States.

Adequate Energy Supplies Needed Fast, Report Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States must devote greater effort to assuring adequate energy supplies for the present and future, says Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., outgoing chairman of the Joint Committee of Defense Production.

Patman, in a statement accompanying a committee report on energy Sunday, said the country is moving too slowly in developing resources.

The report noted that while considerable reliance is being placed on development of electricity by nuclear power plants, 49 of 56 plants now under construction have fallen behind schedule an average of 14.3 months each.

It also said only one significant oil-refinery project is under construction and that no others are planned. The report called this "a definite deficiency."

The report made the following points:

—There will be heavy reliance on foreign oil, ranging from one-half to two-thirds of U.S. oil requirements by 1985 at an annual cost of about $30 billion a year.

—The type of nuclear reactors now in use would exhaust the supply of low-cost uranium in the United States in the next 25 to 50 years.

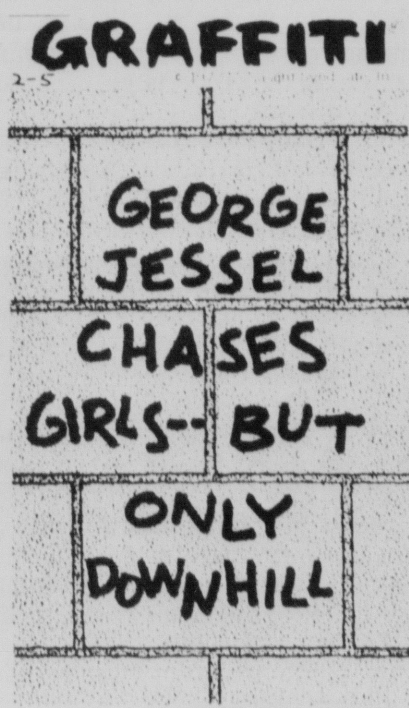

—Heavy reliance is being placed on the more efficient "liquid metal fast breeder reactor," although the first commercial demonstration is not scheduled until 1980.

—There is "insufficient national commitment" to developing alternative sources of energy in the event of setbacks in the liquid-breeder-reactor program.

—The supply of natural gas "is considered even more critical than that of oil," with proven domestic reserves only 11 times greater than annual production.

—While coal constitutes 73 per cent of fossil-fuel reserves, its production and consumption are impeded by environmental and other factors "so that this potentially abundant source of energy cannot fill the demand-supply gap in the critical time period."

—Coal-gasification programs are being pushed, but results are not yet conclusive.

Big Labor Unions May Break Wage Guidelines

WASHINGTON (AP) — Major labor contracts covering nearly five million workers are up for wage negotiations this year and a number of big unions are making no bones about their efforts to win more than President Nixon's Phase 3 pay guideline of 5.5 per cent.

"That is a figure that is completely unrealistic and one that cannot meet the test of the economic facts that face wage-earners today," said Communications Workers President Joseph A. Beirne. His union represents most employees in the telephone industry.

Many unions have served notice they will be lobbying hard in Congress to block Nixon's requested continuation of standby authority to control wages and prices. The current law expires in April.

The 5.5-per-cent guideline is a carryover from Phase 2 controls and is under study by a special government advisory committee that includes labor leaders.

One early-bargaining union, the AFL-CIO International Ladies Garment Workers, already has negotiated a three-year contract providing for 8-per-cent wage hikes the first year and 6 per cent each the second and third years.

The Garment Workers contract covers some 60,000 workers in eight states and is expected to set a pattern for 440,000 other members of the union whose contracts come up later in the year.

"Regardless of what controls are imposed, labor must make it clear from the start that we will not accept token wage and benefit packages while the corporations reap fantastic profits as they did in 1972," said President Peter Bommarito of the AFL-CIO

United Rubber Workers, who negotiates for some 70,000 workers at the Big Four rubber companies in April.

United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock hailed relaxation of strict Phase 2 controls as a step in the right direction, but indicated wages will not be the prime issue when his union negotiates contracts this September with General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

Woodcock said in a copyrighted interview in U.S. News & World Report that UAW members have kept up with the cost of living, and that he expects rank-and-file pressure to center on compulsory overtime and early-retirement pension plans.

UAW will negotiate new contracts for 775,000 members in auto, farm-implementation and autoparts plants.

The big AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, representing nearly one million employees in various industries, is staging a major campaign to stir its members into urging members of Congress to kill Nixon's authority for controls.

"We urge your active support in ending this so-called economic-stabilization program by allowing the present law and President Nixon's authority to expire on April 30," wrote one Machinists official to members of Congress.

The AFL-CIO, a federation of more than 100 labor unions totaling 13.6 million members, has taken no official position on Phase 3 pending its winter meetings in Miami later this month, but has expressed unhappiness with federal efforts to apply a single wage guideline to all industries.

AFL-CIO President George Meany told Nixon that Phase 3 is "a step in the right direction," but that the big labor combine reserves final judgment on whether it would prove fair to workers.

Eight unions representing the bulk of the 525,000 railroad workers negotiating new contracts this year have set demands far in excess of the 5.5-per-cent-per-year Nixon guideline.

The rail unions are asking about 30 per cent in pay hikes over two years, plus fringe benefits that would bring over-all cost closer to 50 per cent. The last rail wage hikes were 42 per cent over 42 months, which got past Nixon's Phase 2 Pay Board on grounds that the industry pattern had been set before controls were established.

Other major labor bargaining this year includes 450,000 Teamsters union truck drivers across the country whose contract expires in June, some 15,000 West Coast Longshoremen in July, and nearly 100,000 members of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters union in August.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP)—Prices advanced cautiously in slow trading today on the stock exchange as gaining issues narrowly outdistanced the losers.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was ahead 0.38 to 981.19. Earlier in the day the Dow had been up 2.86 to 983.67. Advancing issues were 639, to 588 losers.

Brokers said buying was light and centered mainly in the blue-chip issues. The government's challenge of the increase in prime rates was cited as one factor.

Jury Trials Settled; One Set Monday

Two jury trials, originally slated this week, have been settled out of court.
The personal injury suit filed by Charles A. Wood, of Kingston, against Emery V. Cox, McArthur, was settled early this morning while jurors called for duty awaited being called.
Wood, in his original petition, claimed Cox caused the Oct. 23; 1969 accident at the junction of Kingston Pike and Circleville-Tarleton Road. Wood asked for $75,000 damages.
Settlement was made last week for Thursday's scheduled jury trial on a suit filed by Charles W. Issac Jr., of Route 1. Isaac's original claim was for $100,000 for injuries and damages he suffered in an April, 1970, accident on County Road 511 just south of Route 23.
Slated Monday is another case involving personal injury, this time to a South Bloomfield youth. The boy, Sidney Charles Thomas, and his family are seeking a total of $485,000 for injuries suffered by the youth, expenses of medical and hospital care, and damages.
Named as defendant in the suit is Stillman L. Carney, 42, of Laurelville, who was driver of the car which struck the youth on Route 23 near the boy's home. Young was 12 years old at the time of the accident.

'Rat Scat' Drives Rodents Up Wall, Inventor Claims

CLEVELAND HEIGHTS, Ohio (AP)—Frank E. Porath, 35, of Cleveland Heights claims to have come up with an inventor's dream—a better mousetrap.
His "Rat Scat," in fact, either drives rats up the wall...or out the door, Porath said. Either way, you win.
The pocket radio-sized device emits an ultrasonic wail that humans can't hear but rats can. And for rats, Porath said, the sound is the equivalent of "an acid rock band, a baby crying and a woman screaming, all at the same threshold of pain and all at the same time."
As one might imagine, Porath said, the rats' first instinct is to vacate the premises. Porath said that if they can't find a way to escape, the rats run around in a frenzy, fight among themselves or go into a catatonic state.

Vandalism, Break-Ins Reported

Sheriff's Deputies are checking four breaking and entering reports, with two thefts, and six separate cases of vandalism following a busy weekend in Pickaway County.
Carl Valentine Jr., Route 5, Circleville, told deputies that someone broke into his home by breaking a rear door glass between 4 p.m. and 9:45 p.m. Saturday.
The thief took $22.50 in change from the house.
Thieves broke into three Knollwood Village homes about 7 p.m. Sunday, but escaped with only $2 in pennies from one of the houses for their efforts.
The $2 in change was taken from the S. G. Measamer home. Thieves did $10 damage to a door knob by forcing it with a wrench.
The thieves forced a door at James Palm's house, but escaped with nothing after ransacking the dwelling.
George R. Cloud apparently frightened the burglars from his home about 7 p.m. Sunday. The thieves used a wrench to open the front door and after a minor search apparently fled out the rear door as Cloud drove into his garage.
There is no estimate of damage to six windows shattered in the New Holland area Friday night, apparently by blasts from a BB gun.
Persons reporting damage were Dale Funk, Ray Puckett, Addie Justice and Helen Griffith. In addition, glass was shattered at the Arco Service Station and D. and L. Market.

Open Letter

Dear friends,

When the bereaved family first meets the funeral director, probably at the funeral home, they may question whether he truly feels their sorrow. His businesslike actions at times may appear cold, yet his profession, like that of the doctor, requires that he be reserved for the good of those he serves.

The grief of a family that has just lost a loved one is very poignant, and a funeral director is affected by it, as is any other sensitive human being.

Respectfully,

Mader Funeral Home

Police Probing City Breakin

A breaking and entering and another attempted one in the city over the weekend are being investigated by Circleville police.
Teresa Roy, 413 S. Court St., notified police she left her apartment 7 p.m. Saturday and when she returned home 1 a.m. Monday found the glass in the back door broken and the bedrooms ransacked. Nothing was reported missing.
Someone broke the glass in the rear storm door and attempted to pry open the front storm door at the Larry Lewis residence, 203 Cedar Heights, over the weekend. Entry to the house was not gained.
Russ Adams, 200 Meadow Lane, reported the front window in his house had been broken sometime Sunday. Police believe the damage was done with a BB gun.

The pure taste of WHITE

When Arrow thinks elegance, Arrow thinks white. Pure, gleaming, but never colorless white. The white that flashes in first at the sailing regatta. The white that reaches the peaks at St. Moritz. The white that stands out anywhere. Arrow designs pure white on whites. Wide apart pencil stripes. And almost imperceptible patterns. With longer pointed collars.

Vandalism, Break-Ins Reported

Sheriff's Deputies are checking four breaking and entering reports, with two thefts, and six separate cases of vandalism following a busy weekend in Pickaway County.

Carl Valentine Jr., Route 5, Circleville, told deputies that someone broke into his home by breaking a rear door glass between 4 p.m. and 9:45 p.m. Saturday.

The thief took $22.50 in change from the house.

Thieves broke into three Knollwood Village homes about 7 p.m. Sunday, but escaped with only $2 in pennies from one of the houses for their efforts.

The $2 in change was taken from the S. G. Measamer home. Thieves did $10 damage to a door knob by forcing it with a wrench.

The thieves forced a door at James Palm's house, but escaped with nothing after ransacking the dwelling.

George R. Cloud apparently frightened the burglars from his home about 7 p.m. Sunday. The thieves used a wrench to open the front door and after a minor search apparently fled out the rear door as Cloud drove into his garage.

There is no estimate of damage to six windows shattered in the New Holland area Friday night, apparently by blasts from a BB gun.

Persons reporting damage were Dale Funk, Ray Puckett, Addie Justice and Helen Griffith. In addition, glass was shattered at the Arco Service Station and D. and L. Market.

Arrests

Berwin A. Drake, 39, Columbus, driving while intoxicated.

Gary Lee Thompson, 32, South Shore, Ky., driving while intoxicated and no driver's license.

WHS Teens Attend Concert

Twenty-three band students from Westfall High School travelled to OSU's Mershon Auditorium Saturday to attend a clinic and concert by the Ohio State University jazz ensemble.

The students, accompanied by band director Jim Kibby, watched the two-hour open rehearsal of the ensemble, beginning at 1 p.m.

Following the rehearsal, they took part in the clinic supervised by Clark Terry, former first trumpet player on the "Tonight" show, who was guest soloist. Terry spoke to the group on aspects of jazz band performance, including demonstrations.

At 8 p.m., the students were part of a capacity audience who gathered in Mershon to hear the jazz artist and ensemble in concert.

Police Probing City Brekin

A breaking and entering and another attempted one in the city over the weekend are being investigated by Circleville police.

Teresa Roy, 413 S. Court St., notified police she left her apartment 7 p.m. Saturday and when she returned home 1 a.m. Monday found the glass in the back door broken and the bedrooms ransacked. Nothing was reported missing.

Someone broke the glass in the rear storm door and attempted to pry open the front storm door at the Larry Lewis residence, 203 Cedar Heights, over the weekend. Entry to the house was not gained.

Russ Adams, 200 Meadow Lane, reported the front window in his house had been broken sometime Sunday. Police believe the damage was done with a BB gun.

Open Letter

Dear friends,

When the bereaved family first meets the funeral director, probably at the funeral home, they may question whether he truly feels their sorrow. His businesslike actions at times may appear cold, yet his profession, like that of the doctor, requires that he be reserved for the good of those he serves.

The grief of a family that has just lost a loved one is very poignant, and a funeral director is affected by it, as is any other sensitive human being.

Respectfully,

Mader Funeral Home

Former Cuban Tells Of Flight To America

Chris Cadiz, a 1971 Teays Valley graduate, was guest speaker at the Ashville Kiwanis Club meeting Jan. 22. Chris was born in Havana, Cuba. She and her family came to the United States seven years ago on a "Freedom Flight" after waiting five years before being allowed to leave Cuba. Chris is now a U.S. citizen.
Chris's father is a physician at Orient State Institute, and she has one sister and one brother.
Chris told of her life in Cuba and the flight to the United States. The only possessions the members of the family were allowed to bring with them were the clothes on their backs.

Dollars Buy More

Those with nostalgic memories of the past are wont to compare the purchasing power of the dollar of six decades ago (before World War I), to the detriment of the 1973 monetary unit.

All they say is true, with one exception. The dollar of 1913 certainly had purchasing power, but it also had elusiveness that should not be lost sight of.

But the most important difference between the dollars of then and now is that the modern dollar, regardless of how greatly it may become inflated, will buy many items today considered necessities of contemporary living that were not available more than a half century ago.

A dollar of increased purchasing power would not be regarded with great favor by the present generation if it could not be used to buy automobiles, mechanical refrigerators, frozen foods, radio or TV sets, or the myriad of other inventions and innovations of comparatively recent decades.

Service Economy

For 20 years, the preponderance of employment has been shifting from manufacturing of goods to service industries, so the United States now may properly be called a service economy rather than an industrial economy.

The change, according to many economists, will become more pronounced with the growth of automation.

Unemployment has been kept at a relatively low level in recent years because service employment has experienced phenomenal growth.

In 1929, employment in services, such as government, food processing, retailing, finance, repair, personal and professional, totaled 18.6 million. Today the total is more than 40 million.

Announcement of the economic shift probably isn't new to the consumer. For a long time he has had the feeling that services have been taking an increasingly large part of the pay check.

Supporting this are statistics showing a steady rise in cost for medical care, food, beauty treatment and so on.

1973 Steel Shipments To Increase

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— With production continuing at high levels, steel analysts have enlarged their forecast for 1973 shipments from 96 million tons to 98 million tons, Industry Week magazine said Monday.

"Analysts estimate first quarter shipments at 24.5 million tons and 25 million tons in the second quarter," the magazine said. "Sheet demand is expected to slow in June and July but demand for heavier products such as plates and structurals will climb enough to offset the slack in flat-rolled products. Tin plate also is expected to pick up in these months to fill demand for the summer canning season."

Industry Week said demand currently is heavy for sheet products because of price hedging against price increases expected April 1.

"This high demand also reflects peak appliance activity and high automotive production, the latter now at an annual rate of 10 million units," it added.

The magazine said some observers feel that the automotive demand may weaken later in the year if the auto firms are now building up new car inventories as a hedge against a possible strike this fall.

Industry Week estimated steel production last week at 2,875,000 net tons, compared with 2,851,000 tons the preceding week.

The high steel output is reflected in steelmaking scrap prices, which hit a record high last week for the second straight week. The magazine's price composite on No. 1 heavy melting steelmaking scrap rose to $50.33 per gross ton last week from the preceding week's $48.67.

Ellsberg, who is now on trial for tossing the classified material of the Pentagon Papers over the wide-open transom of the New York Times. Having read the Papers with some diligence, I must honestly report that there seemed to be nothing in the supposedly hot revelations that seemed likely to imperil the safety of the Republic.

Since the Times was not bound by any promise to refrain from publicizing non-damaging material just because it happened to be classified, it can make a reasonable defense of its First Amendment position in maintaining a classic adversary role vis-a-vis government. Our press is supposed to fulfill a watchdog function and is entitled, within a rule of reason, to make up its own mind about what is and what is not material that is likely to give comfort to an enemy in an undeclared war.

Having put in my pitch for the sanctity of the First Amendment, which I would defend with the wholehearted pertinacity of Mr. Justice Hugo Black, I am happy to note that the government, in prosecuting its case against Ellsberg and his co-defendant Anthony Russo, is skirting the whole issue of the Bill of Rights guarantee of a free press. The main charge against Ellsberg is theft. True enough, the Espionage Act is brought into it. But unless it can be proved that the leaked "secrets" of the Pentagon Papers really helped General Giap fight his war against us in South Vietnam, the Times, if not Ellsberg, would seem to be off the hook on the "aid and comfort to the enemy" bit.

So why do I hope that Ellsberg does not get off scot-free? It seems obvious to me that there should be some penalty for exercising private judgement about releasing classified documents when one has been sworn to secrecy. It is not enough to offer the plea that one is justified in breaking his word for noble reasons. When Klaus Fuchs let atomic secrets go to Moscow he thought it was for the good of the human race. A precedent could be involved in the Ellsberg case that would haunt the U.S. at some future date.

My attempt to distinguish between Ellsberg and the New York Times, when offered at a National Strategy Information Center conference held at Airlie House in Warrenton, Va., did not meet with the approval of Fritz Kraemer, a Defense Department adviser. Mr. Kraemer apparently agreed with me that the individual Pentagon Paper items printed by the Times would not have been of any particular help to the Hanoi military strategists. But the totality of the printed documents, according to the Kraemer view, presented a picture of chronic Washington indecision and ineffectuality that could easily have caused the North Vietnamese war makers to conclude that they were dealing with a brainless giant. Any revelation of a nation's ineptitude must help an enemy.

I must admit that I was a little staggered by such a suggestion. If Kraemer is right, then there is a case against the New York Times as well as against Ellsberg. However, Daniel Ellsberg's own defense, as set forth by his lawyer Leonard Boudin, is calculated to prove that, far from being journalistic dynamite, the publication of the Pentagon Papers was merely a matter of flogging an all-too-dead horse. Hanoi already knew of our ineptitude and indecision. The "secrets" were not secrets; they had already appeared in government publications. Some of the material bearing on the Tet offensive had been sold at $6 a copy in an official document a couple of years before Ellsberg gave the data to the Times.

The defense offered by lawyer Boudin for his client robs Ellsberg of all semblance of nobility. Ellsberg had palmed off antiquated material on the Times as "original" stuff. The Times, it is turn, had inflated hackneyed items into something presented as the pure gold of revelation. What a farce it was all around. The supreme joke is on the Pulitzer Committee for thinking it all worth a prize.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Feb. 5, the 36th day of 1973. There are 329 days left in the year.

Today's highlights in history:

On this date in 1917, Mexico became a federated republic of 28 states.

On this date:

In 1782, the Spanish captured the Mediterranean island of Minorca from the British.

In 1783, Sweden recognized the independence of the United States.

In 1790, the first lawyers were admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court.

In 1818, the United States signed treaties of friendship with Denmark and Portugal.

In 1937, a bitter controversy began when President Franklin D. Roosevelt proposed adding six new justices to the Supreme Court.

In 1945, in the Pacific war, U.S. forces were mopping up the Japanese in the Philippine capital of Manila.

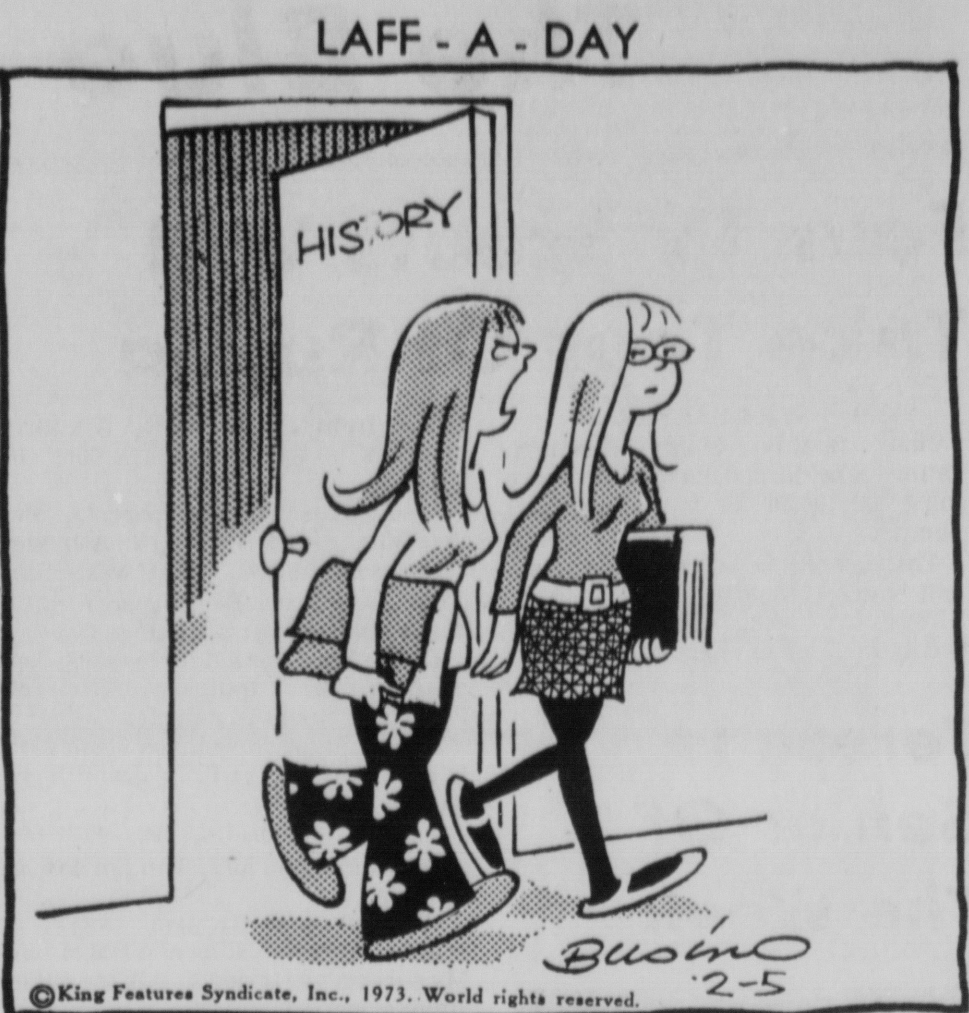

Ten years ago: In Canada, a vote of no confidence in Parliament ousted the conservative government of Prime Minister John Diefenbaker.

Five years ago: The Johnson administration proposed a tourist tax on Americans spending more than seven dollars a day in countries outside the western hemisphere.

One year ago: The U. S. agreed to sell Israel 42 F4 Phantom and 90 A4 Skyhawk jets over three years.

Today's Birthdays: New York Times publisher Arthur O. Sulzberger is 47 years old. Baseball player Hank Aaron is 39.

Thought for today: A minority may be right; a majority is always wrong. Henrik Ibsen, Norwegian poet and dramatist 1828-1906.

"How do they expect me to get interested in history when all the boys in there are creeps?"

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My brother lost 135 pounds with a strict diet because he weighed 350 pounds.

Although he exercised strenuously, he is left with an excessive amount of loose, flabby tissue.

Now he is embarrassed by it. Can anything be done to help someone who has worked so hard to become normal again?

Mrs. E. O., Tenn.

swollen glands in the neck with attacks of sore throat?

Lymph glands are normal structures found in the neck and in all other parts of the body. They are part of a complex network involved in protecting all parts of the body from infection.

The tonsils and the adenoids are considered by some to be part of the interlacing lymph system that acts as a protection against bacteria.

When tonsils are healthy, they may act as a barrier to keep infection from spreading.

Dear Mrs. E. O.:

It is understandable that when one acquires an exorbitant amount of weight, the muscular and skin structure becomes distorted.

When one loses 135 pounds it is rare for the skin and the muscles to return to their normal state of perfect tone. Exercise may be somewhat helpful, but rarely in such extreme cases.

Plastic surgeons have devised many safe operations that can help in restoring good cosmetic appearances to such people.

Many surgeons, even those who do not devote themselves entirely to plastic surgery, can perform these operations in virtually every community in the country. Excess skin can be removed with such delicacy that scars are barely noticeable.

The results are very gratifying.

When the tonsils are chronically diseased and no longer act as a protective barrier, bacteria may seep through them, the first line of defense, and may then be stopped by the glands in the neck, the second line of defense.

So, actually, swollen glands indicate that the body forces are working to defend it against invasion or extension of bacterial infection.

Years ago, before the advent of sulfa drugs and antibiotics, many of the glands in the neck would form abscesses after an infection. It then would become necessary to open the abscess and liberate the pus.

Today this is comparatively rare, because the antibiotics keep the bacteria or germs in control, preventing the formation of abscesses.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Do you want to live to be 100? Well, you'll have a better chance, according to a survey by the National Geographic society, if you are happily married, engage in outdoor activity, eat a low-calorie diet, and live on a mountaintop. It is rare for a single person of either sex to become a centenarian.

The booze bill of Americans is getting higher, but we aren't drinking quite as much of the hard stuff as we did early in the century. The expenditure for each person 21 or older averages $149 annually for nearly 22 gallons of liquor, beer and ale, and wine and champagne. That's an increase of 34 per cent in 10 years. Back around 1906 we drank about 22 gallons a year each, too, but then we consumed six quarts a year each of distilled liquors. Now it's down to four quarts.

Authorities are worried about the growth of arson cases in the United States. They have been doubling every 10 years, and last year eight per cent of all fires were reported to be of suspicious origin. Here are the seven main motives why people set fires: fraud; to hide another crime; jealousy; revenge; thrills, either juvenile or sexual; riots or vandalism; terrorism.

Quotable notables: "Television is chewing gum for the eyes," said architect Frank Lloyd Wright. And the late Fred Allen called it "a device that permits people who don't have anything to do to watch people who can't do anything."

Eyes wide open: Do you believe the old wives' tale that owls are blinded by sunlight? Well, you're wrong. Owls have superb vision at night, but they can also see clearly during the day.

Doppler Radar Identifies Birds

WASHINGTON (AP) — National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration scientists are developing a doppler radar technique to identify birds in flight. They hope it will increase airport safety in areas where birds are a hazard, and help solve the mysteries of bird migration.

Conventional radar has been used for some time to map bird migrations. With doppler radar, however, an operator can get a continuous measurement on the speed at which a bird is approaching or leaving the radar antenna, and on the movements of the bird's wings and body. Plotted graphically, this information constitutes a "signature" for each bird type.

The work is being carried on by Dr. Ben B. Balsley and John L. Green of a NOAA laboratory at Boulder, Colo. If it's possible for them to produce a catalog of "signatures" for various birds, says chairman Charles Wilber of Colorado State University's Zoology and Entomology Department, it will open up new vistas for ornithologists.

Goldfish Worth Cost Of Water

COVENTRY, England (AP) — Mrs. Audrey Braddock believes in paying for what she gets.

She makes a two-mile round trip to collect canal water for her gold fish, which, she believes, thrive on it.

But she felt she should pay for the jugful she takes twice a week. So the British Waterways Board drew up a special four year's contract, and Mrs. Braddock paid the full fee of one — that's around $2.40 — in advance.

Said Mrs. Braddock: "Nothing in life is free. It's only right that I should pay for the water and I was pleased to sign the contract. My goldfish are happier in canal water than that out of a tap."

They'll Do It Every Time

Coalition Lobbying Rears Head

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A big pressure group which helped get and keep Ohio's income tax picked up a fresh tactic that may give the 110th General Assembly some highpressure headaches.

It's called coalition lobbying — when pressure groups of diverse interests combine efforts to achieve a common goal.

The state income tax fight proved the virtue of coalition lobbying. The Ohio Education Association, the Retail Merchants Council, the Farm Bureau Federation and the United Auto Workers combined with about 25 smaller groups in 1971 for victory over opponents of the tax.

John Hall, assistant OEA executive secretary, was extremely active in both getting and keeping the income tax. He believes this was the first time such a wide range of unrelated interests banded together in a common cause.

The coalition was so successful, said Hall that he may try it again — perhaps on legislation to revise Ohio laws on public employee strikes.

"Right now there are a number of groups that share an interest in the major problem of collective bargaining for public employees," Hall said.

"That includes other organizations that represent public employees, but also some employer groups like the Municipal League or the School Boards Association, county commissioners, township trustees and others," he said.

"I wouldn't be surprised if the coalition represents both sides of the table. Six or eight years ago it would have been unheard of. The result should be a compromise bill that will better reflect the public interest," Hall said.

Hall said that's exactly what happened when the OEA, the Retail Merchants Council, the Farm Bureau Federation and the United Auto Workers combined in 1971 with about 25 smaller groups to fight for the income tax.

"A lot of people watched what we did and how it worked and they wished they'd been a part of it," he said.

"People fear coalitions," Hall said. "A lot of media people, for example, would look at a coalition as a powerful pressure move to ram something through."

"Ours was a pressure group, but in no way can it be charged with having passed a special interest bill," he said.

Hall said the pro-tax group never put anything on paper but met informally and reached agreement on a position that satisfied all the interests involved.

"From the public interest viewpoint," Hall said, "a number of groups will come much closer to protecting the public interest than one special interest."

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Shouldn't Lead To Distrust

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for near 20 years to a man I love very much. He doesn't drink or smoke and has a nearly perfect church attendance record. He has shown me he loves me in a million different ways and I've never had reason to doubt him.

Perhaps I should tell you that all the bills are sent to the house and I pay them by check. For Christmas he gave me several gifts. Among them was a pair of lovely earrings. After the bills came in for the Christmas buying, I noticed two pair of earrings on the bill, priced exactly the same. Thinking there must be a mistake in the billing, I phoned the store and was told it was no earrings were purchased by my husband. That evening I asked him about it and he said he had given the other pair to an old lady who works with him.

Yesterday he phoned from work to say he had broken his glasses, and would I bring him his extra pair, so I did. In his office I saw the "old lady" wearing the same earrings he had given to me. Only she wasn't old-she was young, and very pretty. I was sick.

That night I told my husband what I had observed and he said he didn't tell me she was young and pretty because he didn't want to "upset" me.

Well, I am more upset knowing he lied to me. Abby, can a wife every trust her husband after something like this?

HEARSTICK

DEAR HEARTSICK: Yes. Nothing erodes a relationship faster than living with suspicion. No credit to your husband for having lied to you in the first place, but if he had something more serious to hide he certainly wouldn't have charged both sets of earrings, knowing the bill would be sent home and handled by you. Judging from his track record, I'd say your husband deserves to be trusted.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are the proud parents of a beautiful five-day-old baby girl. After seven years of a childless marriage we were able to adopt this precious angel, and words can't express our joy and gratitude.

So what's our problem? Stupid people who say, "Well, now that you've adopted a child, maybe, like so many others couples, you will have YOUR OWN" (What do they think we are? Babysitters?)

Another remark that really bugs us is "Do you know who her REAL parents are?" We consider that nobody's business but our own, but

MIXED EMOTIONS

DEAR MIXED: Reply, "Yes, we know who her REAL parents are. WE are!"

DEAR ABBY: I have been keeping steady company with a young man for the past two years. I am 22 and Bill is 25. He told me that he is going to give me an engagement ring on St. Valentine's day, and I was thrilled because Bill is the most wonderful person I have ever known.

He said he is having the ring made special. It will have a large (one carat) round diamond in the center, surrounded by several smaller diamonds. Then he told me that he hoped I would agree to the one condition he was putting on the ring. It was if something happened to our marriage (I suppose he meant if it ended in divorce,) he could have that center diamond back because it was his mother's. (His mother died when he was 10 and before his father died last year he gave Bill the diamond.)

Abby, why would the thought of divorce even enter his mind at a time like this? Now I wonder if I should accept it. Somehow I would feel that the ring wasn't really mine. Please help me sort out my thinking.

Bus Passenger Minus Clothing

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A Cincinnati Transit Co. bus driver became unsettled today when a lady passenger boarded his bus.

The woman was without fare and without purse or pocket to carry the fare. She was nude.

The driver called police who took the woman, wrapped in a sheet, to the police station. The woman then called her sister, who brought some clothes.

Coalition Lobbying Rears Head

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A big pressure group which helped get and keep Ohio's income tax picked up a fresh tactic that may give the 110th General Assembly some highpressure headaches.

It's called coalition lobbying — when pressure groups of diverse interests combine efforts to achieve a common goal.

The state income tax fight proved the virtue of coalition lobbying. The Ohio Education Association, the Retail Merchants Council, the Farm Bureau Federation and the United Auto Workers combined with about 25 smaller groups in 1971 for victory over opponents of the tax.

John Hall, assistant OEA executive secretary, was extremely active in both getting and keeping the income tax. He believes this was the first time such a wide range of unrelated interests banded together in a common cause.

The coalition was so successful, said Hall that he may try it again — perhaps on legislation to revise Ohio laws on public employe strikes.

"Right now there are a number of groups that share an interest in the major problem of collective bargaining for public employes," Hall said.

"That includes other organizations that represent public employes, but also some employer groups like the Municipal League or the School Boards Association, county commissioners, township trustees and others," he said.

"I wouldn't be surprised if the coalition represents both sides of the table. Six or eight years ago it would have been unheard of. The result should be a compromise bill that will better reflect the public interest," Hall said.

Hall said that's exactly what happened when the OEA, the Retail Merchants Council, the Farm Bureau Federation and the United Auto Workers combined in 1971 with about 25 smaller groups to fight for the income tax.

"A lot of people watched what we did and how it worked and they wished they'd been a part of it," he said.

"People fear coalitions," Hall said. "A lot of media people, for example, would look at a coalition as a powerful pressure move to ram something through."

"Ours was a pressure group, but in no way can it be charged with having passed a special interest bill," he said.

Hall said the pro-tax group never put anything on paper but met informally and reached agreement on a position that satisfied all the interests involved.

"From the public interest viewpoint," Hall said, "a number of groups will come much closer to protecting the public interest than one special interest."

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren
Shouldn't Lead To Distrust

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for near 20 years to a man I love very much. He doesn't drink or smoke and has a nearly perfect church attendance record. He has shown me he loves me in a million different ways and I've never had reason to doubt him.

Perhaps I should tell you that all the bills are sent to the house and I pay them by check. For Christmas he gave me several gifts. Among them was a pair of lovely earrings. After the bills came in for the Christmas buying, I noticed two pair of earrings on the bill, priced exactly the same. Thinking there must be a mistake in the billing, I phoned the store and was told it was no earrings were purchased by my husband. That evening I asked him about it and he said he had given the other pair to an old lady who works with him.

Yesterday he phoned from work to say he had broken his glasses, and would I bring him his extra pair, so I did. In his office I saw the "old lady" wearing the same earrings he had given to me. Only she wasn't old-she was young, and very pretty. I was sick.

That night I told my husband what I had observed and he said he didn't tell me she was young and pretty because he didn't want to "upset" me.

Well, I am more upset knowing he lied to me. Abby, can a wife every trust her husband after something like this?

HEARSTICK
DEAR HEARTSICK: Yes. Nothing erodes a relationship faster than living with suspicion. No credit to your husband for having lied to you in the first place, but if he had something more serious to hide he certainly wouldn't have charged both sets of earrings, knowing the bill would be sent home and handled by you. Judging from his track record, I'd say your husband deserves to be trusted.

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

AILEEN PAUL has a way with children. Maybe her success is due to the fact that she never talks down to them. She has written four how-to books for youngsters and she regularly teaches children's classes in cooking and gardening in her home in Leonia, N.J. She's one teacher that students like because she respects them.

"It's hard for me to remember funny things children say," she said, "I don't think what they say is funny. I take children seriously."

Aileen has three youngsters of her own. Fred, 15, and K. T., 16, are still at home, while a married daughter, Celia, is a community organizer for the Throgs Neck Health Station in the East Bronx.

Mother's Lesson

When all three were little, Aileen taught them cooking and gardening. "It wasn't just for family togetherness," she said, "but because cooking and gardening are things I love to do for sheer creative fun."

Later, Aileen, an attractive, soft-spoken blonde, had her own TV show, "New York Cook." That's when she discovered how much interest there is in children whipping up recipes.

"Every time I had my daughter Celia on the show making cookies or cakes," she recalled, "the switchboard would be swamped. My neighbors got into the act, and before long I was teaching Celia her way around a stove—and I was teaching all the neighbor's children, too."

The gardening classes—the spring session will be starting soon—came later.

Four Children's Books

A natural outgrowth of the classes are her two books, "Kids Cooking" and "Kids Gardening" for Doubleday. A third book, "Kids Camping" will be published shortly and a fourth, "Kids Cooking Cookies, Candies and Cakes" is on its way to the publisher.

"And I have another book I'm going to write," she said. "It will tell children how to buy things, how to spend their money wisely."

Aileen is president of the 43-year-old Cooperative Institute Association, with headquarters at the Mid-Eastern Cooperative Inc., More Avenue, Carlstadt, N.J. She is keenly interested in letting people know how to buy things—food, pharmaceuticals, furniture etc.—the co-op way.

"If you're a member of a food co-op," she said, "there are several advantages. The food prices are lower and the quality's higher on co-op labels. At the end of the year, you get a rebate of about 2 per cent on the money you've spent for groceries. But, of course, you don't have to be a member to shop at a co-op. It offers good values

Turkeys are thrown into a tizzy just by someone opening their cage door. And a really big shock — a paper fluttering in the wind, for example — may cause them to dash hysterically to a corner of their pen and pile up in a fatal crush.

Successful Because She Has Young Ideas

for all shoppers."

This May, there will be a workshop designed to teach people how to set up consumer co-ops at Arlie House in Warrenton, Va.

Radio Show

When she's not teaching or writing, Aileen is apt to be found at WNYC. She has a radio program—she hopes to syndicate it—that is heard three times a week in the metropolitan New York area. The program not only reports entertainments and special events of interest to young people but presents the opinions of junior "critics" on new movies, plays and happenings for children. She's also done a pilot film on a "Kids Cooking" TV show that she's hoping to sell to a commercial sponsor. What is the format like?

Junior Gourmets

"Well, something like a junior Galloping Gourmet," she said, "but with no brandy in the cupboard! We'd have two or three youngsters cooking on each show—and I'd gently weave in some good nutrition points."

A member of the Bergen County branch of NOW, Aileen is strongly interested in Women's Lib ("But I don't have time to do as much work for Women's Lib as I'd like."). Her day is mostly spent on one of her youth-oriented projects.

"You know," she said, "children are much more satisfactory to work with than adults are. Children hear you when you're talking or teaching. Their minds aren't clogged up with details. Their minds aren't off someplace else—mentally writing a store list or a thank-you note to a mother-in-law."

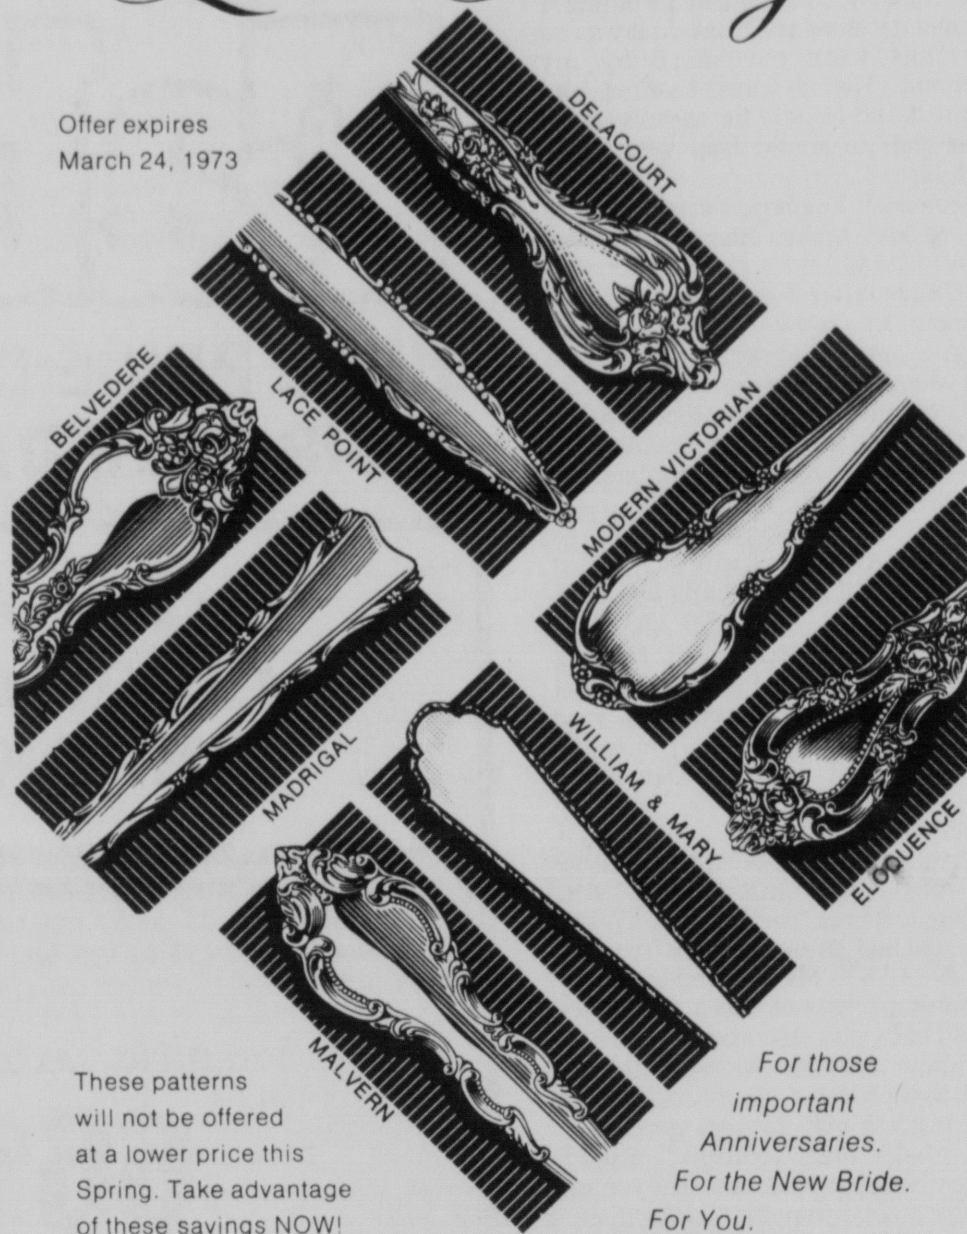

Summer at the Shore

Future plans include a flying trip to London with her children and a long summer at her favorite Jersey shore resort, Barnegat Light on Long Beach Island.

"But it'll be a working summer," she said. "I'll do some writing and, as always, I'll be testing recipes and working with local youngsters. My kitchen is always a mob scene of kids cooking."

Regarding the inclusion of boys in the program, General Mills said, "While historically, the feminine homemaker has usually exerted the major influence in shaping the home, teamwork will undoubtedly become increasingly important during the years ahead. That is why senior boys are now eligible to join the search with full opportunity to gain the benefits of participation."

Secretaries Assn.

Schedules Speaker

The February meeting of Roundtown Chapter National Secretaries Assn. will be held Thursday at Tinks. The social period will begin at 6 p.m. with dinner served at 6:30.

February is the month for the association's international program of the year "Fine Arts" and speaker will be William Chandler, art instructor at Logan Elm School. An interesting program is expected since Mr. Chandler has displayed many paintings and figures of art at various shows, done most of the set for "My Fair Lady", the latest performance of Roundtown Players, and won many awards.

Successful Because She Has Young Ideas

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

AILEEN PAUL has a way with children. Maybe her success is due to the fact that she never talks down to them. She has written four how-to books for youngsters and she regularly teaches children's classes in cooking and gardening in her home in Leonia, N.J. She's one teacher that students like because she respects them.

"It's hard for me to remember funny things children say," she said, "I don't think what they say is funny. I take children seriously."

Aileen has three youngsters of her own. Fred, 15, and K. T., 16, are still at home, while a married daughter, Celia, is a community organizer for the Throgs Neck Health Station in the East Bronx.

Mother's Lesson

When all three were little, Aileen taught them cooking and gardening. "It wasn't just for family togetherness," she said, "but because cooking and gardening are things I love to do for sheer creative fun."

Later, Aileen, an attractive, soft-spoken blonde, had her own TV show, "New York Cook." That's when she discovered how much interest there is in children whipping up recipes.

"Every time I had my daughter Celia on the show making cookies or cakes," she recalled, "the switchboard would be swamped. My neighbors got into the act, and before long I was teaching Celia her way around a stove—and I was teaching all the neighbor's children, too."

The gardening classes—the spring session will be starting soon—came later.

Four Children's Books

A natural outgrowth of the classes are her two books, "Kids Cooking" and "Kids Gardening" for Doubleday. A third book, "Kids Camping" will be published shortly and a fourth, "Kids Cooking Cookies, Candies and Cakes" is on its way to the publisher.

"And I have another book I'm going to write," she said. "It will tell children how to buy things, how to spend their money wisely."

Aileen is president of the 43-year-old Cooperative Institute Association, with headquarters at the Mid-Eastern Cooperative Inc., More Avenue, Carlstadt, N.J. She is keenly interested in letting people know how to buy things—food, pharmaceuticals, furniture etc.—the co-op way.

"If you're a member of a food co-op," she said, "there are several advantages. The food prices are lower and the quality's higher on co-op labels. At the end of the year, you get a rebate of about 2 per cent on the money you've spent for groceries. But, of course, you don't have to be a member to shop at a co-op. It offers good values for all shoppers."

Turkeys are thrown into a tizzy just by someone opening their cage door. And a really big shock — a paper fluttering in the wind, for example — may cause them to dash hysterically to a corner of their pen and pile up in a fatal crush.

This May, there will be a workshop designed to teach people how to set up consumer co-ops at Arlie House in Warrenton, Va.

Radio Show

When she's not teaching or writing, Aileen is apt to be found at WNYC. She has a radio program—she hopes to syndicate it—that is heard three times a week in the metropolitan New York area. The program not only reports entertainments and special events of interest to young people but presents the opinions of junior "critics" on new movies, plays and happenings for children. She's also done a pilot film on a "Kids Cooking" TV show that she's hoping to sell to a commercial sponsor.

What is the format like?

Junior Gourmets

"Well, something like a junior Galloping Gourmet," she said, "but with no brandy in the cupboard! We'd have two or three youngsters cooking on each show—and I'd gently weave in some good nutrition points."

A member of the Bergen County branch of NOW, Aileen is strongly interested in Women's Lib ("But I don't have time to do as much work for Women's Lib as I'd like."). Her day is mostly spent on one of her youth-oriented projects.

"You know," she said, "children are much more satisfactory to work with than adults are. Children hear you when you're talking or teaching. Their minds aren't clogged up with details. Their minds aren't off someplace else—mentally writing a store list or a thank-you note to a mother-in-law."

Summer at the Shore

Future plans include a flying trip to London with her children and a long summer at her favorite Jersey shore resort, Barnegat Light on Long Beach Island.

"But it'll be a working summer," she said. "I'll do some writing and, as always, I'll be testing recipes and working with local youngsters. My kitchen is always a mob scene of kids cooking."

Court Test Seen Possible In Lukens Filing Battle

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—The "missing mail" case of state Sen. Donald Lukens will wind up in court no matter how the Butler County Board of Elections rules, one board member feels.

John Moser said similar cases involving lower Ohio governmental offices have gone to court, and the board is "pretty much aware" of developments in the situation of a Columbus city councilman.

Lukens, a Middletown Republican was slapped with a five-year suspension from running for any state office after the board of elections here informed Secretary of State Ted Brown that Lukens failed to meet the Dec. 22 deadline for filing his expense account for his fall election campaign.

In the Columbus councilman's case, Moser said an expense report was filed 24 minutes after the deadline.

The case was dismissed by the Ohio Supreme Court on procedural grounds, Moser said. But the high court indicated if the case were properly prepared, the court probably would find that the councilman had been denied equal protection of law.

Referring to the recommendation the board will make to Brown Feb. 12 in the Lukens' case, Moser said, "We have only two things we can do.

"Originally, we made the finding that Lukens' filing was late, and we either have to let it stand or go ahead and amend the finding to say he filed properly. I think a decision in favor of Lukens would technically and temporarily lift the suspension, but I am certain it will go to court either way."

But another board member, Richard Koehler, said he isn't quite as sure how much weight the board's ruling will hold. He recalled that Brown instructed the board to hold a hearing Jan. 22, which it did, but that Brown didn't specify what action the board should take.

Lukens, who has expressed plans to run for the 1974 Republican gubernatorial nomination or possibly vie for the U.S. Senate seat held by William Saxbe, claimed he mailed his expense account before Dec. 22.

He explained his case during the hearing Jan. 22.

He says he will submit new information to the board as he is permitted to until Feb. 9.

The board said it didn't receive any document by Dec. 22, but confirmed receipt early in January of what Lukens termed a "duplicate expense report."

"An 'a' feels to him what an 'a' looks like to you."

Dr. Linvill, who headed the team which developed the device, described the Optacon today in a paper presented to a science writers' seminar in ophthalmology sponsored by Research to Prevent Blindness, Inc., of New York, a national research foundation.

He said a blind person experienced in using the Optacon can read about half as quickly as an experienced Braille reader. However, he said, Optacon eliminates converting printed material to Braille's groups of dots pressed into paper to represent letters.

"The aim is to make the blind competitive in a sighted world. I believe it changes the lifestyle of the blind persons," he said.

RESIDE in the

Ohio Counts 12 Highway Fatalities

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Twelve persons died on Ohio's highways and roads this past weekend, the lowest weekend toll reported thus far in 1973.

Included among the death for the 54-hour period were four pedestrians killed in separate accidents.

The dead:

FRIDAY NIGHT

HAMILTON—Elizabeth Scott, 4, Hamilton, hit by a car on a state route near the Butler-Hamilton County line.

TOLEDO—Christopher Kusner, 22, Toledo, when his car struck another vehicle at a Toledo intersection.

SATURDAY

AKRON—Gene Esler, 39, Akron, when his car slammed into a tree along Ohio 303 in Peninsula north of Akron.

Forecast

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Following is the Ohio weather summary from the National Weather Service:

A weak cold front slipped south across the state overnight and at dawn was located along a line from Akron through Findlay. The front was expected to continue south today, possibly becoming stationary along or just south of the Ohio River.

Meanwhile, a weak low should move eastward across southern Ohio tonight, possibly bringing some precipitation, although the dry nature of the air should hold rainfall to a minimum.

No major storm centers are expected in the immediate future, and generally dry weather is forecast until late in the week, with temperatures near or slightly above seasonal normals.

Temperatures were generally uniform last night with readings generally in the 30s. Youngstown was the state's coolest point with a 32-degree reading.

FORECASTS

Bonn Fights Dollar Flow

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany is trying to head off another round of currency revaluations by taking a series of severe steps to halt a flood of speculative U.S. dollars into the country.

At an emergency cabinet meeting Friday night, the government ordered a ban on the purchase of West German stocks by foreigners. Those wishing to buy stocks must get special permission.

Chancellor Willy Brandt's cabinet also decided that:

—Special authorization will be needed for most loans and credits West Germans seek abroad.

—Foreign corporations with subsidiaries and plants in West Germany will have to get permission to invest foreign currencies in their West German facilities.

Woman Is Injured

Escaping Flames

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Oren Cook, 50, of rural Rochester in Warren County was listed in poor condition at Miami Valley Hospital in Dayton today after having leaped from the second floor window of her flaming home.

Police said Mrs. Cook was trapped by the flames Sunday, and jumped from a second-floor window. She apparently landed on the roof of a porch, they said.

Court Test Seen Possible In Lukens Filing Battle

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—The "missing mail" case of state Sen. Donald Lukens will wind up in court no matter how the Butler County Board of Elections rules, one board member feels.

Newly Developed Camera Enables Blind To 'Read'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Stanford University scientist says he believes a newly developed camera that enables a blind person to "read" ordinary printed material will change the lifestyle of blind persons.

The device, developed at Stanford and called Optacon, uses a camera about the size of a pocket knife to photograph each printed letter. The picture is converted electronically to be displayed as an "image" on a grid of vibrating needles on another instrument about the size of a book.

"The blind person feels with his fingertips precisely what the camera sees," said Dr. John G. Linvill, chairman of Stanford University's electrical engineering department.

Oil Spill Closes Pumping Stations

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Engineers, fearing intake of oil laden water, closed Covington and Newport water pumping stations on the Ohio River for several hours Sunday.

The action was a normal precaution, taken because of an oil spill upstream Thursday.

City engineers in the two communities, located across the river from Cincinnati, said most of the oil had been gathered up in a cleaning process, or had dissipated, before reaching here.

Both Kentucky cities used reserve water supplies while the intakes were closed.

Cooper Tire Firm Issues Big Recall

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Cooper Tire and Rubber Co., Findlay, Ohio, has recalled about 28,000 Hercules passenger tires, the Department of Transportation said Sunday.

The tires, which the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration said failed to meet safety standards, were manufactured during the latter part of 1969 and early in 1970 and are labeled Hercules Saftipreme Raybelt.

BUNCH OF TIGERS — It's all Circleville as Dan Graham bags a two-pointer for the Red and Black in a game at Hamilton Twp. Saturday night. Graham tallied 23 points in the contest to lead all scorers. Watching the action are the other four Tigers, Andy Rhoads (53), Tim Burns (43), Glen Gillespie (13) and John Ankrom (35). Number 34 is Al Thornton of Hamilton Twp. Circleville won the game 75-55.

Braves Lose Non-Conference Game To Panthers, 85-79

Logan Elm went down to defeat for the second time in a row Saturday, losing to Chillicothe Bishop Flaget, 85-79.

The Braves now have a 12-4 record for the season and host Scioto Valley Conference leading East Clinton Friday. LE must win to gain a share of the conference title.

In Friday's game, the Braves trailed, 18-15 at the end of the first quarter, pulled out to a 44-39 halftime lead, and were on top, 62-57 at the end of three quarters.

With 5:35 to go, the Braves led, 86-61. But the Panthers from Chillicothe scored eight points to take a 69-68 edge before the Braves could score again. The Game was tied at 71-71 and at 73-73 before Flaget moved ahead for good with 1:59 to go on a field goal by Dan Memenee.

Marty Eveland played an outstanding first half for the Braves, dominating the rebounding, making several key steals and coming up with 14 of his 18 point total.

Tom Sykes was LE's leading scorer, notching 24 markers. He led the Braves in rebounding with 11. Doug Marshall also hit in twin figures for LE with 13 points. Mike Holbrook and Brad Luckhart scored nine points each, Stew Jones, Terry Crumley and Jay Justice scored two each.

As a team, the Braves hit 40 per cent of the field goal tries, 32 of 80, and 62 per cent of the foul shots, 15 of 24. They made 11 turnovers and pulled down 40 rebounds.

Pat Rogers was the leading scorer for the visitors with 24. Three other Panthers, scored in double figures. Dan Menefee and Mike Gans tallied 18 each and Lee Menefee 14. The Panthers made 17 of 23 shots from the foul line, a 74 per cent average.

The Logan Elm reserves lost the preliminary, 58-47. For the little Braves, Scott Pontius scored 13, Mitch Martin 16, Matt Martin 6, Neil Overman and Phil Manson five each and Don Bethel two.

"We miss Tim Justice", Coach Dave Little of the Braves said after the game. "Without him in there the whole tempo of our game is changed. And the boys played like they were tired tonight." Reserve coach Asa Bracbury echoed the belief the players were tired after the loss at Zane Trace. The reserves have been playing the past two games without three regulars, Joe Stump, Derek Morris and Brian Barr. Stump is a starter and Morris and Barr first-line subs.

CHS Tigers Trounce Rangers

After a nip and tuck first period, which saw Circleville trailing several times, the Tigers got their offense in motion in the second period and broke a three-game losing streak with an overwhelming 75-55 win over Hamilton Twp. Saturday night on the Rangers' floor.

Both squad battled on even terms in the first period with the lead changing hands on each bucket. The Rangers took a narrow 12-11 edge on a basket by Ed Tope with 1:00 minute left in the canto. But a foul by Dave Truex and buckets by Dan Graham and John Ankrom put the Tigers on top 16-12 at the buzzer and they never trailed again.

Circleville broke the game wide open in the second canto as Graham hooped 13 points in the period and Ankrom added six to give Circleville a 40-29 lead at halftime.

From there on it was all Circleville as the Rangers were unable to close the gap and the Tigers continued to put points on the scoreboard. The Red and Black upped the count to 57-39 at the conclusion of the third frame and led by 27 points, 71-44, with four minutes remaining in the contest. At this point Tiger Coach John Lawhorn went to his bench for the remainder of the game.

It was a big win for the Tigers as it put them back on the winning trail and sets up the crucial South Central Ohio League battle Friday night when league leading Washington C. H. comes to town to take on Circleville at the Mill St. gym.

Graham paced Circleville and all scorers with 10 from the floor and three from the charity stripe for a total of 23 points. Greg Hoskins and Ankrom each tallied 14, Truex added 12, Robin Martin had four while Doug Radabaugh, Kris Kline, Andy Rhoads and Glen Gillespie had two apiece.

Jim Moore led Hamilton Twp. with 13 markers, Mike Michaels had 10, Tope nine, Jeff Gill six, Jim Hill, Al Thornton and Paul Hillerick each added four, Danny Kayse tallied three and Ed Rice netted two.

Circleville connected on 31 of 89 shots from the hardwood and added 13 of 19 from the free throw line. Hamilton Twp. hit 19 of 64 from the field and converted 17 of 24 charity tosses.

The Tigers dominated the boards with 56 rebounds while the Rangers pulled down 30. Truex had 15 and Graham 12 for Circleville and Thornton grabbed eight for Hamilton Twp.

Circleville is now 11-4 for the season and holds a 5-3 mark in league play. They will host Washington C.H. at Mill St. Friday and travel to Madison Plains on Saturday night.

Circleville Reserves Crush Hamilton Twp.

Circleville's reserve squad ran its season mark to 12-3 with a decisive 58-24 win over Hamilton Twp. Saturday night on the Ranger's hardwood.

The Tigers couldn't get anything going in the first period and trailed 10-7 at the buzzer. But they went to work in the second canto with a 19 point barrage, while holding the Rangers to four tallies in the period, and led 26-14 at the halftime break. Again the defense was tough and the Tigers limited Hamilton Twp. to four more tallies in the third canto to take a commanding 46-18 edge at the conclusion of the period.

Perry Hoskins paced the Tigers with 16 points, Tim McNaughton added 12, Phil Roll and Bill Massie each had six, Brad Spangler tallied five, Harold Reed had four while Bruce Brudzinski and David Bevan had two apiece.

Kayse led Hamilton with six, Prince, Humpries, Crabtree and Smoot each had four while Motika added two.

Circleville will be back in action Friday in a battle with Washington C.H. for the South Central Ohio lead at the Mill St. gym and will play at Madison Plains Saturday.

Hard-Driving John Schlee Captures Hawaiian Open

HONOLULU, Hawaii (AP) — John Schlee's wife Sherri was sunning complacently on a beach when a hastily dispatched messenger informed her that her husband was coming up to the 71st hole leading the Hawaiian Open Golf Tournament.

When Schlee, the lanky, rawboned veteran, holed a birdie putt on the final hole for his first victory in eight years on the pro tour, the pretty blonde rushed into his arms and told him: "I can't believe it."

It was the end of almost a decade of struggle and frustration for the Schlees and left the usually articulate John at a loss for adequate words.

"It's something I've always dreamed of. For 28 years I've been playing golf every time I got a chance. I always wanted to be a player on the tour.

teams in the country. I feel we're the only team in the Big Ten that could rebound with UCLA. We feel we can give UCLA a game."

A lot of teams think they can give UCLA a game. Southern California did Saturday night ... for 10 minutes. At that point, the 20th-rated Trojans were locked in a 12-all standoff with the mighty Bruins. Five minutes later, though, it was 24-12 U-know-who en route to No. 62 in a row, 17 this season. Bill Walton wound up with 20 points and 17 rebounds.

Elsewhere, North Carolina State, No. 2 in The Associated Press ratings and the nation's only other major unbeaten team, shaded stubborn Virginia 64-59 but No. 3 Maryland was upset by unheralded Duke 85-81.

Fourth-ranked Long Beach State crushed Los Angeles State 104-82, No. 6 Alabama trounced Mississippi State 96-86 and No. 10 Marquette whipped DePaul 70-55.

The Wolfpack led Virginia by only one point with seven minutes left but Tom Burleson canned two free throws and baskets by Burleson, David Thompson and Monty Towe offset a couple of jumpers by Virginia's Barry Parkhill.

A combination of Gary Melchionni's 39 points—he connected on 17 of 25 floor shots—and a tricky zone defense helped send the Terrapins to their second Atlantic Coast Conference setback in four days.

Ed Ratleff's 28 points and 15 rebounds led Long Beach past Los Angeles State. LA's Raymond Lewis, the nation's second leading scorer, wound up with 26 after missing his first 14 shots.

Indiana, led by John Ritter's 20 points, broke open a tight game in the second half and remained unbeaten in Big Ten competition. The Hoosiers outscored the Wildcats from the foul line 29-11.

Charles Cleveland pumped in 24 points to pace Alabama to its Southeastern Conference victory over Mississippi State and Allie McGuire and Larry McNeill combined for 12 points in the final four minutes as Marquette pulled away from DePaul.

Wottle Wins K Of C Mile

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— "Time isn't important to me," said Dave Wottle. Then he admitted that he "would like to get down to 3:54 in the mile" this year.

"Winning is important," said the Olympic gold medal winner from Canton after charging from behind for a victory in the mile run at the Knights of Columbus track meet at Public Hall Saturday night.

His time on the indoor track over the 11-lap distance was 4:01.1. That was a trifle slower than the time he posted in winning the event last year but was all he needed Saturday night.

He spent most of the race in fourth or fifth place then with about two laps to go showed his kick, moved quickly to the front and won going away.

Asked about his goals this year, he said it is "always my goal to go undefeated," then added that he would like to do a 3:54 mile and 1:45 in the half mile.

Wottle said he likes to run in Cleveland and called the K of C "a big victory for me."

Richmond Defeats

Lame Duck Barons

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— There was only self-punishment involved, but the 400 faithful who turned out Sunday to wish the Cleveland Barons goodbye took the whole thing in grim stride.

They watched in stony silence as their beloved Barons succumbed 5-1 to the Richmond Robins in the American Hockey League club's last Cleveland appearance before moving to Jacksonville, Fla.

Mustangs Fall To Huntington

Westfall fell behind at the outset and trailed all the way as they dropped an 80-54 decision to the Huntsmen of Huntington Saturday night on the Mustangs' floor.

Three quick buckets by Huntington put the Mustangs in a 6-0 hole and they were never able to dig their way out as they dropped their 17th straight game on the season.

Huntington led 21-12 at the first period buzzer, upped the count to 41-22 at halftime and led the Mustangs by a margin of 61-38 at the conclusion of the third canto.

It was an off and on full court press by the Huntsmen that caused trouble for the Mustangs as they failed to penetrate it and committed 33 turnovers as a result of the pressure. Huntington turned the ball over on 18 occasions in the contest.

Huntington sent the ball flying toward the hoop 76 times and found 31 of them rippling the nets. Westfall had 52 shots from the floor and connected on 19.

Westfall dominated the boards with 40 rebounds to Huntington's 29 but costly turnovers killed the Mustangs scoring chances.

The Scarlet and Gray went to the foul line for 30 attempts and converted 16 while the Huntsmen tallied 18 of 29 from the charity stripe.

Jay Clark and Jim Picklesimer led the Mustangs with 10 points apiece, Mike Peterson had nine, Dave Shannon eight, Marc Easterday six, Chuck Graffis and Joe Angles each had four, Steve Johnson netted two and Greg McKay added one.

Danny Payne led Huntington and all scorers with 22 markers, Terry Jenkins added 14, Mike Scharenberg had 11, John Strasbaugh eight, Ed Peirce seven, Stave Ward six, Terry Mills five, Rob Rhinehart four and Alan Ware three.

Westfall will conclude regular season play Friday night when the Pioneers of Zane Trace come to Mustang country in a Scioto Valley Conference clash.

It was double defeat night for the Mustangs as the reserve squad fell to Huntington 52-32. Tony Mosely led Westfall with 10 tallies and Greg Daniels was tops for Huntington with 16.

Gregg And Haywood Win 24 Hour Of Daytona Run

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Curly haired, handsome Peter Gregg reached his goal. Curly haired, handsome Hurley Haywood crossed the threshold to the future.

The pair of skilled race drivers, so alike and yet so different, made a perfect team in piloting a Porsche Carrera to a surprise victory in the 24 Hours of Daytona sports car race Sunday—a triumph so easy Gregg said, "We didn't run the car any harder than I will drive my Porsche 911 going back to Jacksonville."

They paced their sturdy little machine, designed for basic highway use, around a tortuous infield road and around the 13-degree banked speedway at a steady 111 miles an hour average.

BUNCH OF TIGERS — It's all Circleville as Dan Graham bags a two-pointer for the Red and Black in a game at Hamilton Twp. Saturday night. Graham tallied 23 points in the contest to lead all scorers. Watching the action are the other four Tigers, Andy Rhoads (53), Tim Burns (43), Glen Gillespie (13) and John Ankrom (35). Number 34 is Al Thornton of Hamilton Twp. Circleville won the game 75-55.

Braves Lose Non-Conference Game To Panthers, 85-79

Logan Elm went down to defeat for the second time in a row Saturday, losing to Chillicothe Bishop Flaget, 85-79.

The Braves now have a 12-4 record for the season and host Scioto Valley Conference leading East Clinton Friday. LE must win to gain a share of the conference title.

In Friday's game, the Braves trailed, 18-15 at the end of the first quarter, pulled out to a 44-39 halftime lead, and were on top, 62-57 at the end of three quarters.

With 5:35 to go, the Braves led, 86-61. But the Panthers from Chillicothe scored eight points to take a 69-68 edge before the Braves could score again. The Game was tied at 71-71 and at 73-73 before Flaget moved ahead for good with 1:59 to go on a field goal by Dan Memenee.

Marty Eveland played an outstanding first half for the Braves, dominating the rebounding, making several key steals and coming up with 14 of his 18 point total.

Tom Sykes was LE's leading scorer, notching 24 markers. He led the Braves in rebounding with 11. Doug Marshall also hit in twin figures for LE with 13 points. Mike Holbrook and Brad Luckhart scored nine points each. Stew Jones, Terry Crumley and Jay Justice scored two each.

As a team, the Braves hit 40 per cent of the field goal tries, 32 of 80, and 62 per cent of the foul shots, 15 of 24. They made 11 turnovers and pulled down 40 rebounds.

Pat Rogers was the leading scorer for the visitors with 24. Three other Panthers, scored in double figures. Dan Menefee and Mike Gans tallied 18 each and Lee Menefee 14. The Panthers made 17 of 23 shots from the foul line, a 74 per cent average.

The Logan Elm reserves lost the preliminary, 58-47. For the little Braves, Scott Pontius scored 13, Mitch Martin 16, Matt Martin 6, Neil Overman and Phil Manson five each and Don Bethel two.

"We miss Tim Justice", Coach Dave Little of the Braves said after the game. "Without him in there the whole tempo of our game is changed. And the boys played like they were tired tonight." Reserve coach Asa Bracbury echoed the belief the players were tired after the loss at Zane Trace. The reserves have been playing the past two games without three regulars, Joe Stump, Derek Morris and Brian Barr. Stump is a starter and Morris and Barr first-line subs.

CHS Tigers Trounce Rangers

After a nip and tuck first period, which saw Circleville trailing several times, the Tigers got their offense in motion in the second period and broke a three-game losing streak with an overwhelming 75-55 win over Hamilton Twp. Saturday night on the Rangers' floor.

Both squad battled on even terms in the first period with the lead changing hands on each bucket. The Rangers took a narrow 12-11 edge on a basket by Ed Tope with 1:00 minute left in the canto. But a foul by Dave Truex and buckets by Dan Graham and John Ankrom put the Tigers on top 16-12 at the buzzer and they never trailed again.

Circleville broke the game wide open in the second canto as Graham hooped 13 points in the period and Ankrom added six to give Circleville a 40-29 lead at halftime.

From there on it was all Circleville as the Rangers were unable to close the gap and the Tigers continued to put points on the scoreboard. The Red and Black upped the count to 57-39 at the conclusion of the third frame and led by 27 points, 71-44, with four minutes remaining in the contest. At this point Tiger Coach John Lawhorn went to his bench for the remainder of the game.

It was a big win for the Tigers as it put them back on the winning trail and sets up the crucial South Central Ohio League battle Friday night when league leading Washington C. H. comes to town to take on Circleville at the Mill St. gym.

Graham paced Circleville and all scorers with 10 from the floor and three from the charity stripe for a total of 23 points. Greg Hoskins and Ankrom each tallied 14, Truex added 12, Robin Martin had four while Doug Radabaugh, Kris Kline, Andy Rhoads and Glen Gillespie had two apiece.

Jim Moore led Hamilton Twp. with 13 markers, Mike Michaels had 10, Tope nine, Jeff Gill six, Jim Hill, Al Thornton and Paul Hillerick each added four, Danny Kayse tallied three and Ed Rice netted two.

Circleville connected on 31 of 89 shots from the hardwood and added 13 of 19 from the free throw line. Hamilton Twp. hit 19 of 64 from the field and converted 17 of 24 charity tosses.

The Tigers dominated the boards with 56 rebounds while the Rangers pulled down 30. Truex had 15 and Graham 12 for Circleville and Thornton grabbed eight for Hamilton Twp.

Circleville is now 11-4 for the season and holds a 5-3 mark in league play. They will host Washington C.H. at Mill St. Friday and travel to Madison Plains on Saturday night.

Redskins Turn Back Bowling Green, 61-53

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—"It was just another road victory," claimed Darrell Hedric, The Miami of Ohio basketball coach will have trouble selling that idea to his rivals. Hedric talked about Miami's 61-53 verdict at Bowling Green Saturday night that put the Redskins two games ahead in the Mid-American Conference race. Miami, 6-1 to 4-3 marks for No. 2 Ohio University and Bowling Green, has only four conference games left. The Redskins visit Toledo and Kent State and play at home against Ohio and Western Michigan.

Innsbruck Wins Winter Olympic

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) — The reverend made an impassioned plea, mustering all the eloquence of a sermon from his pulpit. But the Olympic executives were unmoved and gave the 1976 Winter Games to Innsbruck, Austria. "We knew we were working against heavy odds," said the Rev. Bernard Fell, main spokesman for the group which had been hoping they could persuade the executive body of the International Olympic Committee to award the Games to Lake Placid, N.Y. "We had only four days to prepare our application, get it printed and then come over here to argue our case," said the minister of the United Methodist Church. Ohio's pre-season title favorites preserved their flickering hopes with a 62-61 home triumph over Toledo and Kent State dished out a 72-52 home setback to Western Michigan.

Freshman guard Dirk Dunbar popped in 34 points, 17 over his average, as Central Michigan took Buffalo State 103-83 on the non-conference side.

"It puts us in good shape," conceded Hedric after Miami had whipped Bowling Green for the second time this season.

"But I think there are still a couple of ball clubs in the race," he added, obviously thinking of Bowling Green and Ohio.

"The big difference in the second half was Phil Lumpkin and their quickness," said Pat Haley, whose Bowling Green team owned a 33-24 halftime lead on the Redskins.

Lumpkin, however, ripped in 16 of his 20 points in the second half to frustrate the Falcons for the second time this season. He scored 27 points against Bowling Green in the team's first meeting.

Ohio trailed the entire game until Dave Ball's basket with two seconds left. The Bobcats took advantage of Toledo's point void for the last 3½ minutes. They once trailed 41-24 in the second half.

"Coming back from 17 down against a fine possession team like Toledo is like 30 points against anyone else," Ohio Coach Jim Snyder said.

Mike Lovenguth, a freshman from Portsmouth, Ohio, surprised even himself by coming off the bench to score 21 points for Kent State.

"I came up here hoping to start for the junior varsity, dress for the varsity and get in a few minutes at the end. Instead, I'm playing a lot," Lovenguth admitted.

Western Michigan Coach Eldon Miller was impressed with the Flashes' togetherness. "Kent is playing as well as any Kent team I've seen in awhile. They move the ball and play good defense," Miller said.

Despite 35 points from Allan Hornyak, Ohio State absorbed an 84-76 Big Ten setback at Wisconsin and took some of the luster off of its meeting at home tonight with league-leading Indiana.

The Buckeyes fell to a 2-3 mark in the league while the Hoosiers rolled to their sixth straight Big Ten victory over Northwestern.

Houston, 11th ranked nationally, beat Cincinnati for the first time in history 90-85. The Bearcats, now 11-8, lost a 42-35 halftime lead. Lloyd Batts hit 29 points for Cincinnati, which had beaten the Cougars 12 straight times.

Notre Dame outscored Xavier 23-4 in an eight-minute stretch in the second half and romped past the Musketeers 94-68. Conny Warren fired in a game-high 22 points for Xavier, 3-13.

Donald Smith set Dayton school and Chicago Stadium college records with his 52 points in the Flyers' 110-89 romp over Chicago Loyola.

Smith broke Don Meineke's record of 49 points for Dayton against Muskingum in the 1950-51 season and topped the Chicago Stadium mark of 46 shared by Dave Stallworth, Cazzie Russell and Lew Alcindor, now Kareem Abdul-Jabbar.

Muskingum and Otterbein remained tied for the Ohio Conference lead, posting their seventh victories in eight games.

Muskingum whacked Wooster 63-50 behind 5-foot-8 Gene Ford's 20 points. Otterbein took Marietta 70-63.

Rio Grande inched closer to the Mid-Ohio crown, running its league mark to 5-0 with a 97-92 triumph over Malone.

Elsewhere, it was Capital 92, Denison 55; Kenyon 70, Heidelberg 60; Wittenberg 77, Mount Union 62;

Taylor, Nets Edge Past San Diego

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rookie Brian Taylor is having a good year with the New York Nets, and it comes as no surprise to Brian Taylor.

"I'm not surprised I've had this good of a year," Taylor said Sunday after his biggest game as a pro in the Nets 104-102 American Basketball Association victory over the San Diego Conquistadors.

"I wouldn't have left school if I hadn't thought I could have done this well."

In Sunday's other ABA action, Carolina edged Kentucky 104-99, Denver beat Memphis 104-99 and Indiana walloped Utah 113-86.

Taylor, who gave up his senior year at Princeton to join the Nets through the hardship draft, hit on 13 of 21 field goal attempts, scored a total of 32 points, grabbed nine rebounds, handed out nine assists, blocked a shot and made three steals Sunday.

Seventeen of Taylor's points came in a 35-point third period in which the Nets went ahead to stay.

Redskins Turn Back Bowling Green, 61-53

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—"It was just another road victory," claimed Darrell Hedric. The Miami of Ohio basketball coach will have trouble selling that idea to his rivals.

Hedric talked about Miami's 61-53 verdict at Bowling Green Saturday night that put the Redskins two games ahead in the Mid-American Conference race.

Miami, 6-1 to 4-3 marks for No. 2 Ohio University and Bowling Green, has only four conference games left. The Redskins visit Toledo and Kent State and play at home against Ohio and Western Michigan.

Innsbruck Wins Winter Olympic

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) — The reverend made an impassioned plea, mustering all the eloquence of a sermon from his pulpit. But the Olympic executives were unmoved and gave the 1976 Winter Games to Innsbruck, Austria.

"We knew we were working against heavy odds," said the Rev. Bernard Fell, main spokesman for the group which had been hoping they could persuade the executive body of the International Olympic Committee to award the Games to Lake Placid, N.Y.

"We had only four days to prepare our application, get it printed and then come over here to argue our case," said the minister of the United Methodist Church. "If we'd had a little more time, we might have made it. Even the film we showed them of our skiing slopes at Lake Placid was six years old. It was all we could manage at such short notice."

Fell had told the IOC executives: "In 1976, we will, as the world is our witness, be good to the Olympic Games. But the effort was all in vain for the community of 5,000 which, in 1932, had hosted the first Winter Olympics in the United States."

Innsbruck, a city of 116,000 with all the facilities of the successful 1964 Winter Games still intact, ran away with the selection Sunday.

Besides Lake Placid, the IOC executives also turned down bids by Chamonix, France, and Tampere, Finland.

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: In the morning you have a good chance to think out a course of action that is best suited to your emotional nature. The afternoon finds you eager to put an important plan in operation, although more planning will be required later. Your mind is brilliant at this time.

ARIES (Mar 21 to Apr 19) Morning is ideal to go after your finest aims in a positive way and then take the time to assist those who are having a rough time. Improve your health and make sure not to lose your temper.

TAURUS (Apr 20 to May 20) Morning is fine for helping others to solve their problems, but later get busy and make your own position in life better. Plan social activities for the future. Show more devotion to loved one.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Give your full attention to career matters in the morning. Later you can study a new course thoroughly for use in the future. Make sure to pay your bills. The evening can be a happy time with mate.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You get a fine idea in the morning that should be studied, but don't neglect your responsibilities. Listen carefully to what others have to suggest. Evening is fine for reading a good book.

LEO (July 22 to Aug 21) You feel that others are pressuring you in the morning, but in the afternoon you can come to a fine understanding with associates. Mate is irritable but it will be evening before you understand why.

VIRGO (Aug 22 to Sept. 22) Instead of arguing with an associate in the morning, get busy and handle important work and all irons out properly. Listen to the views of others. Show that you understand and want to cooperate.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Make sure you handle all those duties well before you go out for the amusements you enjoy. Try to please both co-workers and friends. Take a good friend into your confidence. Entertain tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) If you plan recreational activities early, you can then go ahead and take care of important responsibilities with ease. Show that you are a creative person. Try to please kin more. Be wise.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have problems at home that need handling early so that you can go out on business without worry. Make this a most productive day. Any friction at home should be gotten rid of quickly.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have some problems that need your immediate attention before you can get into productive work ahead of you. Then you can put a new plan to work efficiently. An associate can be helpful.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Make a plan that will give you more abundance in the future and follow through intelligently. Talk your ideas over with associates. A business expert can solve some problems for you.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Take the time to get your health built up, and then you can accomplish a great deal in business or whatever else is vital to you. Come to right decision about the future. Stay at home tonight.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those highly sensitive young people who does a good deal of listening and learning early in life. Later a pioneering quality can be developed toward a particular goal. Give as fine an education as you can afford and then there will be great success here. Sports are a good outlet. The spiritual will be absorbed with much understanding.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — A new one-hour television series called "Black Omnibus" is appearing this month on local stations in major U.S. cities. You might keep an eye out for it.

The first show is great. Twelve more are scheduled, generally for weekends and in varied time slots. You'll have to check local program listings to learn when they are on.

But if the shows keep the quality of the first effort, viewers who tune in will get two things—top-notch entertainment and a low-key crash course in the heritage of America's black citizens. Each "Black Omnibus" program, according to the press release, explores black involvement in music, comedy, the arts, history, politics, literature, youth and religion.

The show has good writers and an excellent host—James Earl Jones—pulling it all together. The first show never lagged. It began with a quiet explanation of the series by Jones, followed by a brisk jazzrock number from a group called the Nite-Liters. Then came a relaxed interview with two football greats—Jim Brown and Baltimore defensive back Ray May.

Brown, now an actor and founder of the Black Economic Union in Los Angeles, talked dispassionately about the need for blacks to know the realities of economic power—and to have that power.

The primary issue should be economic, not racial, he said, adding that black youths "should be taught what this country is all about . . . like about what makes this television show possible."

The series, taped at station KTTV in Los Angeles, has an impressive lineup of guests in coming weeks. The list includes singers Carmen MacRae and Lou Rawls and poet-artist Bernie Casey.

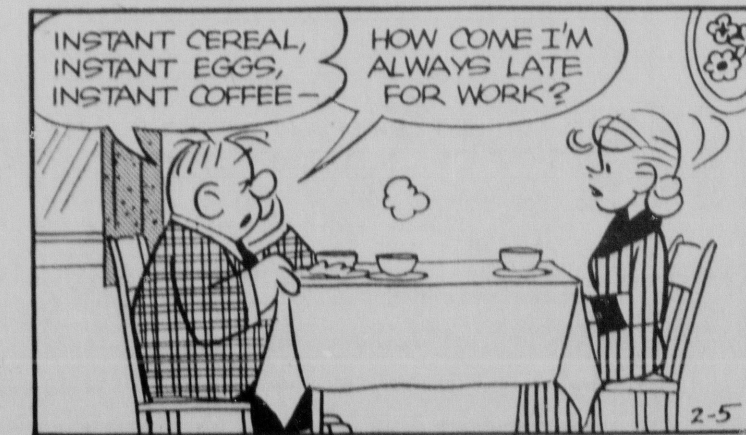

As Jones aptly puts it at the end of the first show: "Black Omnibus is a unique experience for us and an opportunity for you."

All you have to do now is find out when it's on and watch it.

TO HALL OF FAME—Warren Spahn, 51, major league's winningest southpaw, smiles after being named to Baseball's Hall of Fame.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — A new one-hour television series called "Black Omnibus" is appearing this month on local stations in major U.S. cities. You might keep an eye out for it.

The first show is great. Twelve more are scheduled, generally for weekends and in varied time slots. You'll have to check local program listings to learn when they are on.

But if the shows keep the quality of the first effort, viewers who tune in will get two things—top-notch entertainment and a low-key crash course in the heritage of America's black citizens.

Each "Black Omnibus" program, according to the press release, explores black involvement in music, comedy, the arts, history, politics, literature, youth and religion.

The show has good writers and an excellent host—James Earl Jones—pulling it all together.

The first show never lagged. It began with a quiet explanation of the series by Jones, followed by a brisk jazzrock number from a group called the Nite-Liters.

Then came a relaxed interview with two football greats—Jim Brown and Baltimore defensive back Ray Mays.

Brown, now an actor and founder of the Black Economic Union in Los Angeles, talked dispassionately about the need for blacks to know the realities of economic power—and to have that power.

The primary issue should be economic, not racial, he said, adding that black youths "should be taught what this country is all about ... like about what makes this television show possible."

The series, taped at station KTTV in Los Angeles, has an impressive lineup of guests in coming weeks. The list includes singers Carmen MacRae and Lou Rawls and poet-artist Bernie Casey.

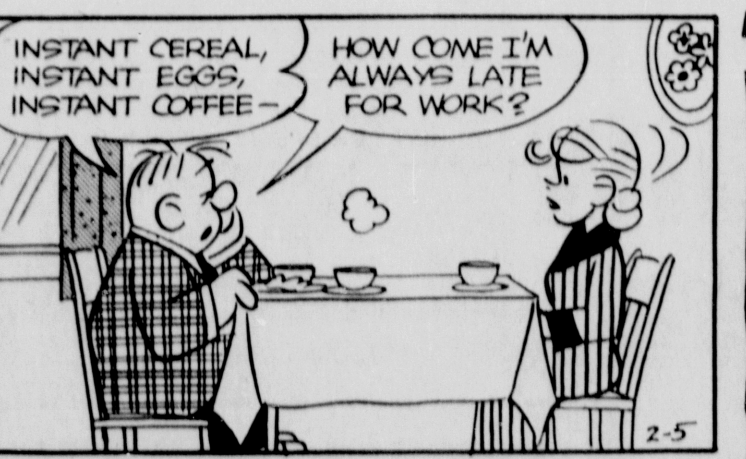

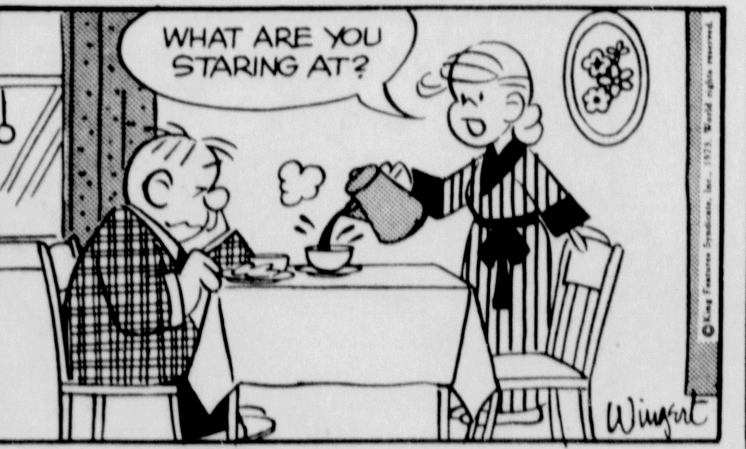

As Jones aptly puts it at the end of the first show: "Black Omnibus is a unique experience for us and an opportunity for you."

All you have to do now is find out when it's on and watch it.

TO HALL OF FAME—Warren Spahn, 51, major league's winningest southpaw, smiles after being named to Baseball's Hall of Fame.

Old-Fashioned Hardware Store To Close

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Frank P. Hall Hardware, an old-fashioned jumble just right for noon-time browsing in downtown Columbus, is closing down.

Not for lack of customers, but for lack of clerks.

"All the employees retired," said Harold Hessler, head of sporting goods.

You don't find good hardware clerks easily. It's even worse trying to find good sporting goods clerks.

Hessler, who retired last October, came back to help out in the final "After Christmas Sale" which will mark the unceremonious end of a downtown institution.

"We've all had a lot of crying over closing down," said Mrs. Charles Lewis, 62-year-old bookkeeper who started in 1936, took time out to rear a family and returned 12 years ago. "But, I'm ready to retire myself."

Of the five Hall employees, only Orville McCabe will take another job. He is a youngster with only 20 years of tenure at Hall.

Jim Husted, 67, started at Hall Hardware in 1922, or a half century past. He has been head of the hardware department. "A lot of customers lose out," he grumbled.

Someone mentioned customers preferring airy, modern hardware stores. "They won't get the service they get here," he snapped.

A newcomer might think Hall

Hardware is a jungle of disorder with its creaking floors piled with hardware and sporting goods, its walls lined with everything from hinges to fishing lures, its ceiling festooned with fan belts.

But, in 20 minutes Hessler, Husted and McCabe found on first try a liner for a thermos bottle (model 120), a nut for a screw that holds a rug-making frame together, and a twohanded fly rod strong enough to catch tarpon.

Hessler didn't recommend the rod. "It's murder," he told the customer. "I recommend a lighter one."

Husted said in an aside: "They couldn't get anybody to clean rods and reels like he did," he said, nodding toward Hessler.

Charles Lewis, head of the hobby shop for 43 years, had to retire. He has been hospitalized with eye trouble.

Mrs. Frank P. Hall, 79, decided to close down.

Court Hall Jr., her grandson, is in charge of the store closing. He didn't want to close. At 67 he wanted to keep the store open. His children talked him out of it.

So, what hasn't been sold at 40 per cent discount by Saturday, will be auctioned off, even to the 67-year-old balance scales, bought by Frank P. Hall at the outset.

Communist Cargo Ships Await Haiphong Reopening

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. intelligence reports nearly a dozen Communist cargo ships en route to North Vietnam or in Chinese ports waiting to sail for Haiphong when it is cleared of U.S. mines.

This was learned as a U.S. Navy delegation headed by Rear Adm. Brian McCauley was due to start talks today with North Vietnamese officials on the ways and means of removing the mines. McCauley, commander of the mine-clearing task force, planned to meet with the North Vietnamese in Haiphong, North Vietnam's chief port and one of seven harbors sealed from ocean-going vessels by U.S. minefields since last May.

There was no indication how close any of the approaching cargo ships are to Haiphong. U.S. patrol planes and surface warships customarily have kept an eye on Russian and other ship traffic bound for North Vietnam starting far back along their routes.

The new report, coupled with information on supplies landed recently in China for North Vietnam, suggests that the Russians and the Communist Chinese still are not responding to U.S. proposals that all the backers of both Vietnams henceforth limit their material support.

According to recent information, nearly 160,000 tons of supplies were landed in China for North Vietnam in January.

This is equivalent to about 80 per cent of the tonnage that used to reach Haiphong by sea before President Nixon ordered the mine blockade last spring.

Since then, North Vietnam's war effort has been sustained by supplies transshipped by land from South China into North Vietnam despite U.S.

bombing of North Vietnam's rail system and highways.

Other intelligence information suggests the North Vietnamese made a major effort to push supplies into the area just above the old demilitarized boundary with South Vietnam and into the Ho Chi Minh trail in southern Laos shortly before the cease-fire went into effect Jan. 27.

There are some indications that North Vietnamese supplies have continued to move along the trail in Laos since the cease-fire, but there is no certainty that any of this materiel has crossed into South Vietnam.

The cease-fire pact stipulates that South Vietnamese and Communist forces inside South Vietnam may be resupplied only on a carefully restricted replacement basis. There is no ban on North Vietnam's continuing to receive unlimited quantities of military aid as long as it does not try to send this materiel on into South Vietnam unchecked.

Patrol Lt. Ernest Wigglesworth

Assists New Enforcement Class

Former Circleville Highway Patrolman Ernest Wigglesworth is assisting Rio Grande College in organizing a training program for law enforcement officers.

Wigglesworth left Circleville two years ago to accept a promotion to lieutenant and commander of the Gallipolis Ohio Highway Patrol Post.

With fourteen other peace officers and professional people, Lt. Wigglesworth is helping to set up a Certified Basic Training program. Police officers are required to complete such a program within one year after being commissioned in Ohio and the new Rio Grande College course has been created to fulfill this need.

Wigglesworth will be one of the fifteen instructors for this course with others selected from the Jackson and Gallipolis City Police forces, the Gallia County sheriff and deputies, two attorneys and two physicians, and an employee from the State Liquor Department, Red Cross and state institutions.

The Gallipolis Patrol commander has served with the Ohio Patrol of 19 years and was assigned to the Circleville Post for six and a half years.

Interest Rate Hike Rapped By Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's Committee on Interest and Dividends, in the most far-reaching step since it was established, has requested full information on costs and earnings from four banks that raised their prime lending rate.

The committee, a unit of the Cost of Living Council, said in an unusual Sunday statement that it regrets the increase of the prime lending rate from 6 to 6 1/4 per cent.

The prime lending rate is the interest that commercial banks charge their most-creditworthy customers. Consumer interest rates are scaled upward from the prime rate.

The request for "full information on costs and earnings," along with any calculation the banks may have used to justify the increase, is the strongest action taken by the committee since President Nixon established it during the wage-price freeze in 1971. Its duty is to keep watch on interest rates, which have never been controlled under the President's economic programs.

The boost by the four banks would be above the level that existed just before the freeze. For most banks, the prime lending rate is still 6 per cent.

The committee is headed by Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, who said that "higher marginal costs of funds from sensitive market sources should not unduly influence sensitive interest rates."

This statement applied to banks' cost of federal funds and certificates of deposit, among other things. The panel said it is convening a group of technical experts to monitor the costs influencing institutional lending rates.

Changing their rates to 6 1/2 per cent were the Franklin National Bank, New York; First Pennsylvania Banking & Trust Co., Bala Cynwyd, Pa.; The Bank of New York, New York City, and the Girard Trust Bank of Philadelphia.

Prisoners Questioned

MARYSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Officials of the Ohio Reformatory for Women here began individual hearings today for 58 inmates who refused to return to work last Friday after a five-day strike.

About 81 women had been given an ultimatum to go back to their jobs or face "house arrest" with the consequences, Supt. Martha Wheeler said Sunday.

Actions to be taken against them depend on the degree of involvement of each woman in the strike, she said. Although no leader has been chosen by the strikers, the corrections staff had observed "which individuals have control of the situation," Miss Wheeler said. The observations will be taken into consideration at the hearings.

The consequences range from counseling and reprimand to possible prosecution if it is determined that a crime was committed in the continuation of the work stoppage, Miss Wheeler said.

The hearings are "a local matter" and do not involve state corrections officials, she said. But the state will be kept informed of the results.

The 58 women were secluded from non-strikers Friday after each participant was asked if she would go back to work. About 10 extra security guards were on duty during certain hours of the day at the large dormitory where the women were transferred, Miss Wheeler said.

CANDY SALE—Gra-Y Club members and YMCA members will sell candy for YMCA World Service and Home Youth Y Projects. Over 70 boys attended the Saturday morning Candy Sale Kick-off Party. The sale will end Feb. 17. Boys from Monroe, Jackson, Washington, Pickaway, Nicholas, Atwater, High Street, Court Street and Mound Street Gray-Y Clubs are participating in this year's sales. Candy sellers pictured above are: Greg Hewitt, Bret Hardbarger, Frank Barnhart, Tom Adams, Willy Thompson, Joe Trapp, Martin Hall, Terry Speakman, Randy Arledge, Jeff Morehead and Gra-Y Advisor, Jim Griffith.

ISN'T YOUR FAMILY WORTH A LITTLE EXTRA CAUTION?

Look for this shield of quality whenever you buy beef . . .

. . . and you'll buy Kroger "People's Choice Beef." It's the fine beef that is eligible to carry this shield.

Only beef which has been inspected by an official U.S. Dept. of Agriculture and meets government standards for color, texture, maturity, marbling, bone structure and other quality features can wear this shield.

Not everybody in this area sells USDA CHOICE beef. Kroger sells no other kind. It's your best assurance of consistent high quality in the beef you serve your family.

Jubilee®
UGLY DUCKLINGS

The funny-looking panty hose that fit like crazy . . .

Oh, they're ugly, alright . . . when you take 'em out of the package . . . wrinkly and kinda weird . . . but, like the Ugly Duckling that changed into a beautiful swan, our Ugly Ducklings turn into beautifully-fitting panty hose the first time you put them on! Jubilee's amazing new Downyloft 100% nylon fiber shapes itself to you . . . stretches and clings to your legs and body like a second skin . . . always fits perfectly. You won't believe 'em until you try 'em! One size . . . short or tall . . . fits you. In fashion colors. Sold only at Kroger stores.

What Products Give You the Most Value For Your Money?

Now at Kroger you can tell at a glance

To help you get the quality you want . . . in the quantity you need . . . at the price you can afford New shelf tags show the "price per lb." or some other "unit price." This lets you see at a glance how much you pay for the same quantity of each size or brand of the same item.

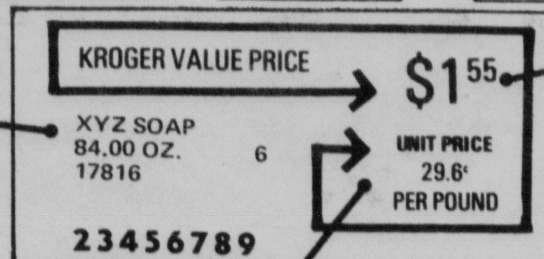

Example: As you can see by the illustration below, the most economical buy would be the 84 ounce box of XYZ Soap. (Prices are examples only.)
